We hope that you enjoy this collection of memories from our years at Salve. Because the yearbook staff was small this year, including every event and every person was difficult, but we did our best to include all. We would like to thank John Quinn and Christy Jacobsen for all of their help and support. Thank you also to Nicole Caesar for designing the cover and Rich Mirrer for the art work throughout the book. As well, we would like to congratulate the class of 1996 and offer Best Wishes for the future.

FRIENDS, OUR FAMILY

Right back at ya, Kelly.

The Senior Class President, Matt, leads his friends in a game of Twister.

The Narragansett Family.

Lauren and man's best friend.

It all started here.

Even Calculus is easier when working with friends

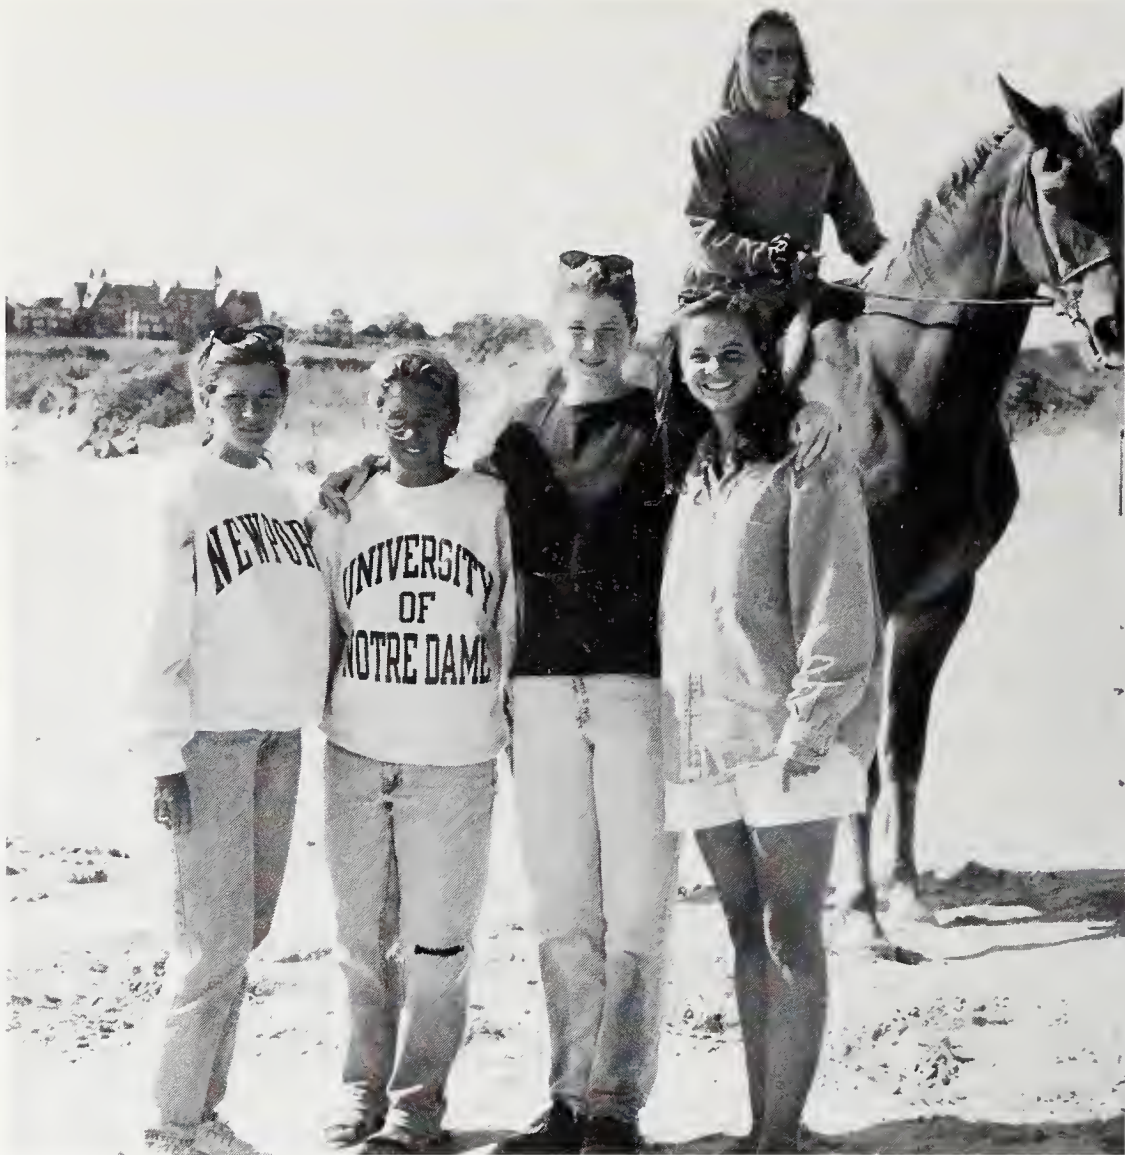

A friendly bout of Martial Arts

The beach is an ideal location to horse around with friends.

Sue and RA friends cutting up McAuley lawn.

Salve friends work together to help families in need.

We're all friends - why can't we have our own t.v. show?

Chrissy, Jen, and Megan take time out of a Salve activity to pose for a picture.

Friendship can weather any storm.

Friend's shoulders aren't only for crying on.

Traveling abroad brought Salve friends closer.

Clare, Lisa, and Molly lean on each other.

Underclassmen hangin' out on McAuley lawn.

WELCOME BACK WEEKEND

ACADEMIC SYMPOSIUM

Maria and classmates being recognized for academic excellence.

Rich and Bentley: bosom buddies, even on Halloween.

EXTREMELY HALLOWEEN

The spirit of the Salve community comes alive when holidays arrive. Friends dress up together, or help others into their unique costumes, so all can fully participate in local Halloween parties. This night is one when Salve friends can laugh together with one another.

Jen and Amy represent two holidays in one night.

We're off to see the wizard ...

UNIQUE COSTUMES

We may never know what everyone had intended their costume to be, but the effort in trying to make this night unique gave everyone a chance to show their originality.

SALVE, SOCIALLY

Beginning Frshman Year, friends start to join together knowing they will make many memories together.

Salve's Winter Formal, a great photo op for these groups of pals.

Justin and Scott on their way out.

Although a tux is not required, Jack looks pretty dapper with Nicole.

Trae obviously has dance fever.

MEMORIES IN THE MAKING

Social events bring Salve students closer together and with them the bonds between all grown stronger.

Friends getting closer.

Heath and Dino share a good laugh and big smiles.

Salve Regina University established its Football team just four years ago in 1992. In Salve's inaugural season, they posted a 4-2 mark as a club team. Their first year of league play was in the 1994-95 season where Salve finished with a remarkable 8-1 overall record and 6-0 in league play. Head Coach Tim Coen was a well respected high school coach before coming to Salve. He has coached the Newporters to an overall 24-8 record in four years. Coach Coen is teamed up with excellent assistants which have made the Newporters so good. The players have complimented the coaching staff by producing several All-Conference Awards and two All-American Awards in the last two years. Salve is shooting for a post-season birth next year as they missed out this year by only one game - not bad for a team that had only 20 guys in its first season.

Around Campus

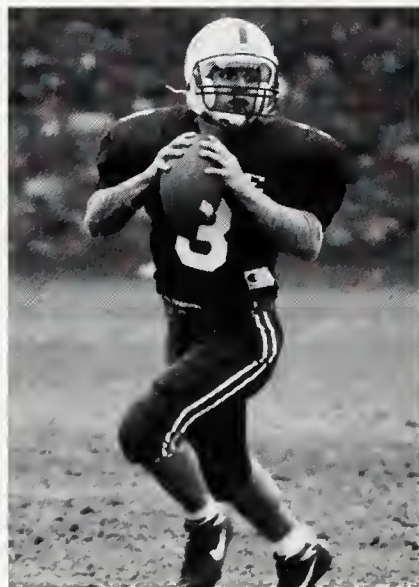

Baseball players show how exhausting winning can be.

Salve takes it down field.

Beth-Anne's strong forehand gets her the match point.

Ronnie scoping the gridiron for an open receiver.

Hurdlings to victory.

SALVE ATHLETICS

The hand-off is good to gain the yardage needed for the Salve first down.

Keeping control of the ball brings Josh and the Salve soccer team closer to a goal.

The offense provides great coverage to help execute the ultimate spiral.

Once handed the ball, Jim will plow through the defense like Emmit.

Salve Football ... down the line.

Field Hockey and Equestrian

Salve fights for control of the ball.

Field Hockey is a sport in which all must work together.

Jen and Nicole after qualifying for the IHSA Nationals.

The Salve Equestrian Team, with Beau.

Men's and Women's Soccer

Men's soccer has always been very competitive at Salve and games draw many fans. Here, Craig fights against a Gordon player for control of the ball.

Has anyone seen the ball?

Thea battles an opponent to make a clean sweep.

Men's and Women's Basketball

Justin goes for the lay-up.

Matt struggles to get the rebound.

Justin ... above the rim.

Meghan exercises her jump shot.

Nicole and Nicole keep eye contact with opposing players.

Kerri's reach towers over the opponent's to gain the rebound.

Baseball and Softball

It's headed for the bleachers!

Dave reaches the plate just in time.

Carrie puts her glove in the dirt in an attempt to catch a ground ball.

As team catcher, Lisa keeps a clear view of all that is going on around her.

Men's and Women's Tennis

Tennis Team Captains

Bill uses Jordan's expressions on the tennis court.

Seniors pose at the prestigious Tennis Hall of Fame.

Track & Field and Sailing

The opponents view of the Salve Track Team.

Warming up before a meet.

Coming about can be a hard thing to do.

Dave and Shawn move to the port side.

Cheerleaders, the ignitors of spirit.

SALVE SPIRIT

Friends and family are an important part of Salve Athletics. They contribute to the prosperous aspects of those students that excel both athletically, as well as academically. For that we thank them.

Parents are a welcome addition to the Salve Athletic Fan Club.

Jen and Rick show colorful support of the Salve Soccer TEam.

Janine, all wrapped up and ready to go.

Cute robe.

They went that way.

No postage necessary.

CANDIDS

can•did (kan'did) 1. unposed and informal

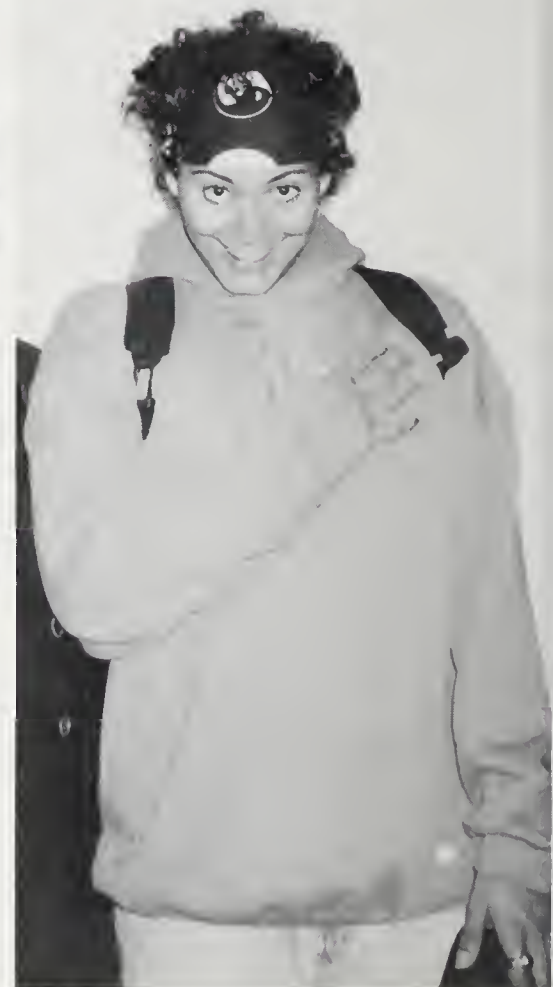

The candid picture pages are a treasure chest filled with memories of our experiences at Salve. They act as remembrance of all the social interactions during our time together.

Scott, covered with enough condiments to be a hoagie.

Erich and Koh doing their George Burns impression. Jesse shows where the love comes from.

The gang's all here.

We're really having fun now!

Friendships stay strong through the school year ...

... and the summer months.

Sharing a laugh and a smile.

THE WAY WE WERE

At the beginning, we met friends, not knowing that they would become such an important part of our lives. We have gone through many changes, both physical and emotional, together. Somehow, college does that to people.

Formal attire is always a good excuse for taking pictures.

Relaxing with friends.

Marisa, Erin, and Kathy, ready to do up the town.

We wouldn't have opened the door if we knew you had a camera.

Miley Cafe, a gathering place.

Who could forget John St.?

The Wharf Deli - dinner, drinks, and friends.

Jen and Colleen take advantage of the warm weather.

The sun may be setting on our college careers, but not friendships.

Keena and Kim posing casually.

Senior Class President, Unplugged.

Circle of Friends.

Not only did we build friendships, but we built friends.

Jen and Jen share a silly moment.

NIGHTS OUT

As you leave Salve and embark upon this new and exciting adventure, remember we love you and will always be there for you.

Love,

Mom, Dad and Jason

Dear Kristen,

Your dream of graduating college has now become your reality. Congratulations on fulfilling your dream. This quote by Louisa May Alcott conveys the essence of what I've taught you while you were growing up. I felt it was appropriate to include as part of my graduation message to you and as a reminder as you look to the future.

"Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not see them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them and try to follow where they lead."

The future belongs to you and the world is filled with dreams for you to pursue if you continue to believe in yourself. Carry your enthusiasm for life, your ideas and values into the world. I have no doubt who will effect the world in a positive way and make a difference. Remember to always do your best, set no limits and enjoy whatever you do.

I love you and am proud to be your mom.

Love,
Mommy

Dear Kris,
